XL Palisade

XL Palisade is the answer to the search for paving finishing elements with a modern and minimalist form. Geometric shape and smooth, but at the same time grainy, structure of the surface perfectly fit into the compositions of modern style spaces. The palisade can be used to create simple and effective edging to protect the paving surface, and thus to create practical demarcations between the paving zone and green areas, with stones or bark. The element of small architecture can also be used to protect slopes, faults, unevenness, as well as to create modern in form, geometric flower beds.
